

Flower Label Program Association (FLP) is an international NGO carried by human rights organisations, trade unions, flower traders and flower producers. Its aim is to implement the International Code of Conduct (ICC) in worldwide flower production through certification, labelling and marketing. FLP has high credibility in the flower sector, empowering more than 30,000 workers on certified flower farms. Currently, FLP is active in 8 countries worldwide.

For employment starting on December 1st 2010, FLP is looking for a new

Managing Director (m/f)

who will represent the interests of the four parties involved, lead the main office located in Cologne, monitor the audit and certification procedure and take over the PR- and media work of the Association.

We look forward to your application if you

- Have a university degree in economics, social science or agricultural sciences (or similar fields).
- Have more than three years of professional experience in project management in a sector that is relevant for the vacancy.
- Have experience in acquisition of funds.
- Have profound knowledge on labour rights.
- Have excellent communication skills and experience in dealing with different cultures.
- Have work experience in a developing country.
- Have good team spirit and a confident manner.
- Speak and write English and German fluently, and ideally also Spanish.

Please send your application including your salary expectations by August 13th 2010 to vacancy@fairflowers.de (as PDF). Only candidates under consideration will be contacted. Interviews will take place September 6th 2010 in Cologne.

For more info visit our web page www.fairflowers.de